

Notice of Privacy Practices

This notice describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. Please review it carefully. Effective: April 2, 2003

If you have any questions or requests, please contact Jim Carlsen, Privacy Officer at (847) 818-1295.

A. WE HAVE A LEGAL DUTY TO PROTECT HEALTH INFORMATION ABOUT YOU.

We are required to protect the privacy of health information about you and that can be identified with you, which we call “protected health information,” or “PHI” for short. We must give you notice of our legal duties and privacy practices concerning PHI:

We must protect PHI that we have created or received about your past, present, or future health condition, health care we provide to you, or payment for your health care.

We must notify you about how we protect PHI about you.

We must explain how, when and why we use and/or disclose PHI about you.

We may only use and/or disclose PHI as we have described in this Notice.

This Notice describes the types of uses and disclosures that we may make and gives you some examples. In addition, we may make other uses and disclosures, which occur as a byproduct of the permitted uses and disclosures described in this Notice.

We are required to follow the procedures in this Notice. We reserve the right to change the terms of this Notice and to make new notice provisions effective for all PHI that we maintain by first:

Posting the revised notice in our offices;

Making copies of the revised notice available upon request (either at our offices or through the contact person listed in this Notice); and

Posting the revised notice on our website.

B. WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE PHI ABOUT YOU WITHOUT YOUR AUTHORIZATION IN THE FOLLOWING CIRCUMSTANCES.

1. We may use and disclose PHI about you to provide health care treatment to you. We may use and disclose PHI about you to provide, coordinate or manage your health care and related services. This may include communicating with other health care providers regarding your treatment and coordinating and managing your health care with others. For example, we may use and disclose PHI about you when you need a new referral or other health care services. In addition, we may use and disclose PHI about you when referring you to another health care provider, fax reports and notes to referring and PCP's. EXAMPLE: Your therapist may share medical information about you with another health care provider. For example, if you are referred from a Specialist, that doctor will need to know if you had x-rays from your PCP. Similarly, your doctor may share PHI about you with a pharmacy when calling in a prescription.

2. We may use and disclose PHI about you to obtain payment for services. Generally, we may use and give your medical information to others to bill and collect payment for the treatment and services provided to you. Before you receive scheduled services, we may share information about these services with your health plans(s). Sharing information allows us to ask for coverage under your plan or policy and for approval of payment before we provide the services. We may also share portions of your medical information with the following:

Billing departments: (File claims to insurance companies, send patient statements.)

Collection departments or agencies; (Forward unpaid bills for collection.)

Insurance companies, health plans and their agents which provide you coverage; (eligibility verification), (obtain authorization), (file claims, provide treatment documentation), (follow up on unpaid claims)

May use internet or email to perform above tasks.

Consumer reporting agencies (e.g., credit bureaus).

EXAMPLE: Let's say you have a hip replacement. We may need to give your health plan(s) information about your condition, supplies used and services you received. The information is given to our billing department and your health plan so we can be paid or you can be reimbursed.

3. We may use and disclose your PHI for health care operations. We may use and disclose PHI in performing business activities, which we call "health care operations". These "health care operations" allow us to improve the quality of care we provide and reduce health care costs. Examples of the way we may use or disclose PHI about you for "health care operations" include the following:

Reviewing and improving the quality, efficiency and cost of care that we provide to you and our other patients. For example, we may use PHI about you to develop ways to assist our health care providers and staff in deciding what medical treatment should be provided to others.

Improving health care and lowering costs for groups of people who have similar health problems and to help manage and coordinate the care for these groups of people. We may use PHI to identify groups of people with similar health problems to give them information, for instance, about treatment alternatives, classes, or new procedures.

Reviewing and evaluating the skills, qualifications, and performance of health care providers taking care of you.

Providing training programs for students, trainees, health care providers or non-health care professions (for example, billing clerks or assistants, etc.) to help them practice or improve their skills.

Cooperating with outside organizations that assess the quality of the care we and others provide. These organizations might include government agencies or accrediting bodies such as the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations or CARE.

Cooperating with outside organizations that evaluate, certify or license health care providers, staff or facilities in a particular field or specialty. For example, we may use or disclose PHI so that one of our Physical Therapy Assistants may become certified as having expertise in a specific field of physical therapy, such as orthopedics.

Assisting various people who review our activities. For example, PHI may be seen by doctors reviewing the services provided to you, and by accountants, lawyers, and others who assist us in complying with applicable laws.

Planning for our organization's future operations.

Computer company that supports and maintains and repairs our computer system.

Conducting business management and general administrative activities related to our organization and the services it provides, including providing information.

Resolving grievances within our organization.

Reviewing activities and using or disclosing PHI in the event that we sell our business, property or give control of our business or property to someone else.

Complying with this Notice and with applicable laws.

4. We may use and disclose PHI under other circumstances without your authorization. Fax or email information to different departments within our company, e.g., New Patient Coordinator, new insurance information to our billing department and telephone messages from or about a patient. Transfer charts (discharged going to archives, patient transferring to another clinic) from one clinic to another by committee members only in locked briefcase. We may use and/or disclose PHI about you for a number of circumstances in which you do not have to consent, give authorization or otherwise have an opportunity to agree or object. Those circumstances include:

When the use and/or disclosure is used for Workers' Compensation.

When the use and/or disclosure is required by law. For example, when a disclosure is required by federal, state or local law or other judicial or administrative proceeding.

When the disclosure relates to victims of abuse, neglect or domestic violence.

When the use and/or disclosure is for health oversight activities. For example, we may disclose PHI about you to a state or federal health oversight agency, which is authorized by law to oversee our operations.

When the disclosure is for judicial and administrative proceedings. For example, we may disclose PHI about you in response to an order of a court or administrative tribunal.

When the disclosure is for law enforcement purposes. For example, we may disclose PHI about you in order to comply with laws that require the reporting of certain types of wounds or other physical injuries.

When the use and/or disclosure relates to decedents. For example, we may disclose PHI about you to a coroner or medical examiner for the purposes of identifying you should you die.

When the use and/or disclosure relates to cadaveric organ, eye or tissue donation purposes.

When the use and/or disclosure relates to medical research. Under certain circumstances, we may disclose PHI about you for medical research.

When the use and/or disclosure is to avert a serious threat to health or safety. For example, we may disclose PHI about you to prevent or lessen a serious and eminent threat to the health or safety of a person or the public.

When the use and/or disclosure relates to specialized government functions. For example, we may disclose PHI about you if it relates to military and veterans' activities, national security and intelligence activities, protective services for the President, and medical suitability or determinations of the Department of State.

When the use and/or disclosure relates to correctional institutions and in other law enforcement custodial situations. For example, in certain circumstances, we may disclose PHI about you to a correctional institution having lawful custody of you.

5. You can object to certain uses and disclosures. Unless you object, we may use or disclose PHI about you in the following circumstances:

We may share with a family member, relative, friend or other person identified by you, PHI directly related to that person's involvement in your care or payment for your care. We may share with a family member, personal representative or other person responsible for your care PHI necessary to notify such individuals of your location, general condition or death.

We may share with a public or private agency (for example, American Red Cross) PHI about you for disaster relief purposes. Even if you object, we may still share the PHI about you, if necessary for the emergency circumstances.

We may mail you patient satisfaction surveys.

Health-Related Benefits and Services – Our practice may use and disclose your Identifiable Individual Health Information (IIHI) to inform you of health-related benefits or services that may be of interest to you, such as information on health fairs, seminars, monthly maintenance programs and stretching clinics.

6. We may contact you to provide appointment reminders, or when you do not keep a scheduled appointment. We may use and/or disclose PHI to contact you to provide a reminder to you about an appointment you have for treatment or medical care, or when you do not show for a scheduled appointment.

7. We may contact you with information about treatment, services, products or health care providers. We may use and/or disclose PHI to manage or coordinate your healthcare. This may include telling you about treatments, services, products and/or other healthcare providers.

ANY OTHER USE OR DISCLOSURE OF PHI ABOUT YOU REQUIRES YOUR WRITTEN AUTHORIZATION

Under any circumstances other than those listed above, we will ask for your written authorization before we use or disclose PHI about you (such as an attorney or a relative). If you sign a written authorization allowing us to disclose PHI about you in a specific situation, you can later cancel your authorization in writing. If you cancel your authorization in writing, we will not disclose PHI about you after we receive your cancellation, except for disclosures which, were being processed before we received your cancellation.

C. YOU HAVE SEVERAL RIGHTS REGARDING PHI ABOUT YOU.

1. You have the right to request restrictions on uses and disclosures of PHI about you. You have the right to request that we restrict the use and disclosure of PHI about you. We are not required to agree to your requested restrictions. However, even if we agree to your request, in certain situations your restrictions may not be followed. These situations include emergency treatment, disclosures to the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services, and uses and disclosures described in subsection 4 of the previous section of this Notice. You may request a restriction by submitting a written request to Privacy Officer. (Form available from receptionist).

2. You have the right to request different ways to communicate with you. You have the right to request how and where we contact you about PHI. For example, you may request that we contact you at your work address or phone number or by email. Your request must be in writing. We must accommodate reasonable requests, but, when appropriate, may condition that accommodation on your providing us with information regarding how payment, if any, will be handled and your specification of an alternative address or other method of contact. You may request alternative communications by submitting a written request to Privacy Officer. (Form available from receptionist).

3. You have the right to see and copy PHI about you. You have the right to request to see and receive a copy of PHI contained in clinical, billing and other records used to make decisions about you. Your request must be in writing. We may charge you related fees. Instead of providing you with a full copy of the PHI, we may give you a summary or explanation of the PHI about you, if you agree in advance to the form and cost of the summary or explanation. There are certain situations in which we are not required to comply with your request. Under these circumstances, we will respond to you in writing, stating why we will not grant your request and describing any rights you may have to request a review of our denial. You may request to see and receive a copy of PHI by submitting a written request to the privacy office. (Form available from receptionist).

4. You have the right to request amendment of PHI about you. You have the right to request that we make amendments to clinical, billing and other records used to make decisions about you. Your request must be in writing and must explain your reason(s) for the amendment. We may deny your request if: 1) the information was not created by us (unless you prove the creator of the information is no longer available to amend the record); 2) the information is not part of the records used to make decisions about you; 3) we believe the information is correct and complete; or 4) you would not have the right to see and copy the record as described in paragraph 3 above. We will tell you in writing the reasons for the denial and describe your rights to give us a written statement disagreeing with the denial. If we accept your request to amend the information, we will make reasonable efforts to inform others of the amendment, including persons you name who have received PHI about you and who need the amendment. You may request an amendment of your PHI by submitting a written request to Privacy Officer. (Form available from receptionist).

5. You have the right to a listing of disclosure we have made. If you ask our contact person in writing, you have the right to receive a written list of certain of our disclosures of PHI about you. You may ask for disclosures made up to six (6) years before your request (not including disclosure made prior to April 14, 2003). We are required to provide a listing of all disclosures except the following:

For your treatment

For billing and collection of payment for your treatment

For our health care operations

Made to or requested by you, or that you authorized

Occurring as a byproduct of permitted uses and disclosures.

Made to individuals involved in your care, for directory or notification purposes, or for other purposes described in subsection B.5 above

Allowed by law when the use and/or disclosure relates to certain specialized government custodial situations (please see subsection B.4 above) and

As part of a limited set of information which does not contain certain information which would identify you.

The list will include the date of the disclosure, the name (and address, if available) of the person or organization receiving the information, a brief description of the information disclosed, and the purpose of the disclosure. If, under permitted circumstances, PHI about you has been disclosed for certain types of research projects, the list may include different types of information.

If you request a list of disclosures more than once in 12 months, we can charge you a reasonable fee. You may request a listing of disclosures by submitting a written request to Privacy Officer. You have the right to request a paper copy of this Notice at any time for asking any staff member. We will provide you a copy of this Notice no later than the date you first receive service from us (except for emergency services, and then we will provide the Notice to you as soon as possible or upon request.

D. YOU MAY FILE A COMPLAINT ABOUT OUR PRIVACY PRACTICES.

If you think your privacy rights have been violated by us, or you want to complain to us about our privacy practices, you can contact the person listed below:

AccuCare Rehabilitation Center, Jim Carlsen, Administrator/Privacy Officer, 1100 W. Central Rd., Suite 301, Arlington Heights IL 60005

Privacy Officer will provide you with a patient complaint form to fill out and return. You may also send a written complaint to the United States Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services at:
